

HENDRICK HUDSON FREE LIBRARY WIRELESS NETWORK POLICY

You may use your own equipment to access the internet at the Library if you have a device with a wireless connection. Most users can simply bring their wireless-enabled device to the Library and turn it on. The device should automatically recognize the network. If it does not, check with the Reference Librarian to verify the wireless network is functioning.

Wireless access is available in the parking lot, on the grounds and in the building.

Rules and Disclaimers:

- You are responsible for virus and security protection on your own equipment.
- The Library assumes no responsibility for damage, theft or loss of any kind to a user's equipment, software, data files or other personal property brought into or used at the Library's facilities.
- The Library cannot guarantee that the service will be available at any specific time.
- The Library provides access to internet resources equally to all Library patrons, and upholds and affirms the right of each individual to have access to constitutionally protected material in accordance with the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights.
- Patrons must comply with all applicable federal, state and local laws. Illegal use of the internet is prohibited and may result in the loss of library privileges and/or criminal prosecution.
- Display of sexually explicit graphics is inappropriate for a public and open environment and is prohibited.
- Privacy may be limited while using patron equipment.
- Library administration reserves the right to establish additional policies governing internet use and consequences for misuse that are consistent with its policies.
- Library staff will assist patrons with wireless access issues to the extent it does not interfere with their other responsibilities.
